

PROSPECT AT HOME.

Plenty of Ground That Should Be Gone Over This Spring.

Now that mining is the rage throughout the State and great mines are being developed that are attracting the world's attention, it is time for Carson to wake up to the fact that she must get in line and add something to her mineral resources. There is plenty of room and good prospects within an hours drive and some within easy walking distance. To the West of this city there is a mine and a big one. Al. Lindsay carries specimens about him that came from the old Houston property that would create excitement in any other section. The specimens are simply alive with gold and one specimen he has polished and wears on his watch chain.

Over the river to the East many handsome specimens have been picked up and little or no work has ever been prosecuted. Some of the finest copper indications in the West are to be found out that way and no depth has been attained. To the South specimen rock is to be found in a dozen places, yet no great amount of work is being carried on. Pine-nut offers the prospector the best chance of any of the poor man's diggings. There is placer and quartz to be found and the few who have stuck to the district have made money. Little Benny, who has dug out a fortune near the Shultz-Zinn ground, has made the bullion by his own labor and his bank account would astonish many who have paid little attention to the mines of the district.

Over in Jumbo, only ten miles from Carson there is gold and plenty of it and all that is needed is a reduction company in the camp to make bonanzas. It is an every day occurrence of those prospecting to pick up specimen rock, but there has been little real mining done out there.

The Hannan shaft shows a ledge that would command money in any other section as do also the Selby properties.

With every county in the State booming and all on account of the mines that are being brought out, it is time for this county to get in line and show the world that there is wealth lying within sight of the capital.

Prince Catlin, one of the locators of Silver Bow, states that there is plenty of indications of great mines here and he intends to add his share of hard work to opening some of them this coming summer. Others who have had experience in the southern camps are convinced that Ormsby has plenty of rich mineral, but lacks plenty of muscle and rustle to develop it.

Miner Killed.

Peter Kern, a miner employed at the Golden Crown mine, was instantly killed Sunday afternoon by a cave-in of the station roof at the 400-foot level. Kern and a companion were doing some work on the station, when a portion of the roof fell, extinguishing Kern's light. His companion who was a few feet away, called to him and Kern answered to him that he was unhurt. As he finished speaking an immense cave-in occurred and he was buried under tons of earth. A force of miners at once commenced to remove the earth and soon recovered the body. He was considerably mutilated.—Tonopah Sun.

Last Sad Rites.

The funeral of the late Jack Cochran took place yesterday afternoon at the family residence at three o'clock and was attended by intimate friends only. The remains were taken to San Francisco last evening.

The beautiful service of the Episcopal church was read by Rev. H. A. R. Ramsey. The hymn, "Go Buried Thy Sorrow" was sung by Mrs. E. B. Yerington and Miss Edith Edwards.

Painful Accident.

Mrs. P. H. Mulcahey met with a painful accident night before last. She slipped on the ice and dislocated her hip. Dr. von Radesky, who reduced the injury, reports his patient as getting along nicely.

The Wells Herald is authority for the statement that Prof. Caine principal of the Elko high school, will sever his connection with that institution at the end of this school year to accept a position in the university.

The Fleishackers are said to have purchased control of the Nevada transit company's line between Reno and Sparks.

T. B. Ricky was a departure for Goldfield on yesterday's stub train.

Judge Davis of Dayton was among yesterday's visitors.

STRENUOUS WORK.

Boys on the Electric Line Kept on the Move.

The storm that has been keeping up its work for the past week has made the boys on the electric line hustle to keep up their end. Tom Kearney of this city has been out every day in order that Carson might be supplied, and last Monday he worked his way through to Virginia City in spite of the high wind and heavy snow. Since that time he has been up and down the line and made minor repairs.

Tuesday night the power was turned off from Virginia City and this city in order that the repair crew might reset wires that were down and which threatened life and possibly injury to the entire system. It was near midnight when the crew left and they had to face a howling wind and a severe storm.

The company is certainly doing all they can and the fact that they have succeeded as well as they have deserves praise and when the lights go out, people should stop and figure that there is some sixty miles of wire before it reaches the home. Every time the wires are down it means hard and dangerous work for the repair crew.

BOUGHT THE ROAD.

Nevada Transit Company Goes to the Fleishackers.

Herbert Fleishacker, Joseph Martin and J. A. Buck registered at the Hotel Golden late Monday night and started the rumor all over again about the proposed purchase of the Nevada Transit Company's line between Reno and Sparks.

The rumor was authoritatively confirmed yesterday and it is only a question of a few days before the deal is consummated.

The three men took a trip over the line of the road yesterday and expressed their satisfaction at the condition of the track and the rolling stock. They took an option for which they paid over $1000 to purchase the stock of the company and if the Fleishackers do not intend to control the Nevada Transit company they have made a bluff that will cost them money.

One in a position to know declares that the deal is as good as closed, and that in a day or two all the necessary papers will have been signed, the stock transferred and the line of the Nevada Transit Company will be in new hands.—Journal.

Wet Weather

The weather continues to keep up its good work and yesterday afternoon another rain storm set in that is still in force as the Appeal goes to press.

The reports that comes in from the mountains is to the effect that rain is falling where it usually snows. Only on the high summits is it snowing.

The storm has reached the southern section, but it is mostly rain which does as much good as the snow and relieves the cattle and flock owners of a great deal of anxiety. It is the heaviest storm in many years and the ground is receiving such a soaking that crops of all character are assured for the coming summer.

WILL MELT THE ROCK.

Frank Golden is Tired of Waiting for His Cash.

The efforts of the members of the defunct Reno Chamber of Commerce to raise enough money to pay off its debts and to redeem the ore exhibit the finest ever collected in the State, from Frank Golden, who bought it at sheriff's sale for about $450, have failed. Saturday Golden began the removal of the exhibit from the sheriff's office in order to send it to one of the smelters, where it is to be reduced for its bullion value.

Golden made a great bargain in his purchase. The exhibit is made up of picked ores from the richest gold, silver and copper mines in the state, and weighs several tons. It has been estimated to be worth from $3000 to $5000, and as an exhibit is worth much more, as it represents many years of tireless search for rare specimens from all parts of the state.

When Golden bid the exhibit for the claims he had against the Chamber the members of the latter allowed it to go at a very low price, it being their intention to redeem it. Golden gave them a month to do this, but owing to dissention in the organization all efforts to raise funds failed.

Wrecked the Mill.

ELKO Nevada, January 16.—The quartz mill at Edgemont has been swept away by the snowslide that came down the mountain and caught the mill almost squarely. The mill was housed in a strong wooden building which was completely overwhelmed. Fortunately no workmen were within the mill or there would have been serious loss of life. The machinery is seriously damaged and extensive repairs will have to be made before the property can be placed in running condition.

Fear for the Sheep.

ELKO Nev., January 16.—The central and eastern portion of Nevada is being swept by one of the worst blizzards in many years. Between Elko and Tuscarora several stages have been snowbound since Friday. The stages plying between Elko and Ely have not been heard from either for several days, but it is believed that the drivers and passengers are safe at some way station.

The snow at Elko is thirty inches deep and at the base of the mountains it is five feet.

The sheep men are greatly worried. Between 15,000 and 20,000 head of sheep were snowbound in the pancake range, southwest of here about two weeks ago and it is feared that these animals will suffer terribly and that the mortality will be frightful. Many thousand sheep could not be taken to the winter ranges on account of the early snows and the owners are scouring the country for hay and grain to feed them.

THE EMPORIUM.

Miss Margaret Sweeney who has been spending several weeks in California has returned to this city.

C. & C. AND WARD PUMP PLANTS.

Can Drain Lode to 5,000 Level With Another of Same Capacity.

The work of excavating a station on the 2330 level of the Ward shaft for installing a pumping plant is in progress. When this plant is in operation and sinking to the 3000 begins it may reasonably be anticipated that the Ward pumps will all material in draining the flooded levels of the middle and Gold Hill mines.

The C. & C. pumps have lowered the water in the Combination shaft over 211 feet below the stage at which it stood prior to installing the elevator and Riedler systems and when it becomes feasible to measure the present stage of water in the Union shaft it will be interesting to note to what depth the water has been lowered at the north end since the C. & C. pumps have been in operation.

Before that date the water was only a few feet below the Suto tunnel north lateral branch. The work of the C. & C. pumps has demonstrated that with the Ward and another plant of equal water lifting capacity the entire lode can be drained to the 5000 level, if required.—Chronicle.

THE INNOCENTS MAIDS

The Next Attraction at the Local Play-House.

"A Night at Newport" and "The Diamond Palace" are the titles of the two burlesques which will be the offerings of the Innocent Maids at the Opera House on the evening of January 24, 1906. It was the intention of Manager Dinkins with the Innocent Maids to get away from the old styles of burlesques and he has succeeded. John Burke, who is famous throughout the country as a fun maker, will assume the leading parts. He will be assisted by such well known entertainers as Markie and Elliott, comedy acrobats and barrel jumpers; Alcece and Hamilton, song and dance artists, and Lida Dexter, the statuesque blonde. Among the many interesting musical numbers to be rendered during the action of the piece will be the golf girls, the plantation girls, chefs and kitchen maids, Samoan number, Salvation army, flower girls and Adonis number. The costumes for these numbers have all been designed with the greatest care.

Nearly a Fire.

TONOPAH, Jan. 17.—The inevitable gasoline stove and a woman who did not understand its component parts caused a fire in Tonopah this morning that came very near setting fire to The Tonopah Sun building. The flames started in Mrs. Willitt's kitchen in an adjoining building and before the fire was finally extinguished. The Sun building was pretty well scorched.

Nevada Legislation in Congress.

The appropriation for the United States Surveyor General's office in Nevada has been increased $3,000. This was made necessary by the additional work required on account of the discovery of valuable mines in the southern part of the State. Citizens of Goldfield have petitioned Congress for an increase in salaries of postoffice clerks at that place.

The Old Favorite.

Last evening the old favorite "Tea Nights in a Bar Room" was presented in this city to a fair house. The rain and heavy wind kept many of the theatre goers from attending, but those who did go enjoyed the old play with a number of frills added to the original. It is likely the next generation will witness the same old time favorite and enjoy it, as it takes good things to grow old.

Devoted to Nevada.

The New York commercial in its annual review devotes the greater part of thirty pages to Nevada and her mines. Every district comes in for its share of boom and stocks that are not heard of in this section are given a prominent place. The fever is brewing and it is hard to find a paper in the East that has not caught the fever and is helping boom and boost this State.

An unknown man supposed to be from Toano, Nevada, was found dead in bed in an Ogden hotel a few days ago. He had probably been dead two days. He was about 50 years of age and had absolutely no money.

Three men have been arrested in connection with the robbery of the Club saloon in Winnemucca last Sunday morning. It is probable that none of them are the guilty party and that they will be released.
